SERAFINO "FOGE" FAZIO PITT HEAD FOOTBALL COACH

Foge Fazio is for real.

That's fundamental to Fazio's widespread appeal. He is a football coach you can relate to, a person you can approach and be comfortable with in conversation on any occasion. He can laugh and cry with the best of them.

Anybody who attended the Golden Panthers' Auction this past winter will surely tell the story about Foge winning the bidding for a beautiful golden retriever puppy that was auctioned that evening.

His 17-year-old daughter, Kristen, was called upon to carry the puppy across the stage and show it to the audience in the William Pitt Union. Kristen and the puppy were a pair that pulled at everyone's heart, but none more than her dad's. He was a goner.

"We needed a new dog," explained Foge afterward. "Our dog, Patches, died last week. Boy, that was tough. That hurt. We had Patches for eight years, and she was like part of the family."

Fazio's family includes his wife, the former Norma Popovich, daughter Kristen and son Vince, who is 14, and can usually be found at his father's heels on the sideline during games.

His mother, Rosa, sister Rosemary, and brothers, Frank and Tony, are important to him, too, and are often seen at campus and family get-togethers.

They remind Foge of his roots, and the lessons he learned about the value of hard work, customer service and integrity while assisting his late father at the family's grocery store at Chess and Sixth Streets in Foge's hometown.

Foge comes from Coraopolis, a community to the west of the campus of the University of Pittsburgh, out by the Greater Pittsburgh International Airport. Foge hasn't forgotten where he comes from, often goes back to be with long-time friends and family, and even to help an old buddy campaign for political office.

He got his nickname because of the funny way he said "fudge" when he was a kid. When he attends sports banquets he likes to tell the background on his real name — Serafino Dante Fazio.

"You know, Serafino comes from seraphim, the little angels," he says. "And Dante was the Roman poet who wrote about all those unscrupulous characters making a fantasy trip through Hades. So that's the devil part of me. So I've got a little angel and a little devil in me."

That is, indeed, part of his charm.

He is happy to be the head football coach at his alma mater. He played both linebacker and center for the Panthers from 1957-60. He served as an assistant coach at Pitt under Carl DePasqua (1969-72) and Jackie Sherrill (1977-80). Under Sherrill, he became the defensive coordinator and the assistant head coach.

When Sherrill left after four successful seasons, Fazio was the first and most natural choice to succeed him.

So Fazio knows the tradition. He knows what is behind this season's "Celebration of Tradition" as well as anyone.

Fazio knows the kind of football the fans and even his best friends and family have come to expect.

"Pittsburgh is being hailed as the most livable city in the country, so we're No. 1," he said this summer. "Pitt has been No. 1, when we won the national championship in 1976. Pitt was part of Pittsburgh being known as the City of Champions. Everyone wants to get back to that. They want to see the Steelers, and the Pirates and Pitt win big again. So do I."

"We have high standards. We've all been very successful. To keep that rating we have to win. We've dedicated ourselves to that end ever since last season. None of us were happy with the record (3-7-1) last season, not after going 8-3-1 and 9-3 the year before, in my first two years as head coach."

"We went to the Sugar Bowl my first year and the Fiesta Bowl my second year. And we want to get back to another bowl game this time around. We're all bringing a lot of dedication and a lot of pride and a lot of enthusiasm to the task this year."

In Foge's first two seasons, his 17 wins tied Sherrill for the best start of any football coach in Pitt history.

Foge attended more sports banquets and Golden Panther dinners and luncheons than ever during the past off-season, to make sure no one lost faith in the football program. He participated in more fund-raising affairs and lent his services to so many community service activities.

A record $100,000 was raised for the Leukemia Society of America at his celebrity golf outing at the Pittsburgh Field Club. The local chapter has reaped over $350,000 through the efforts of Foge and his friends who have spearheaded the event. If there isn't a conflict with Foge's schedule, he never says no when asked to participate in any charity-related programs.

He has gotten his football players involved in community service, too, sending them regularly to Children's Hospital and the V.A. Hospital, and to participate in Pittsburgh area fund-raisers for the American Heart Association and WQED, for example.

"Foge is a Pitt man," says Dr. Bozik. "He embodies the values we have at the University. He understands them, knows them well, and I have the utmost trust and faith not only in his ability as a coach, but in his humanity, integrity and warmth."

Coach Fazio remains a great recruiter and salesman for the University. He lopped the staff for many seasons in landing star players like Tony Dorsett and Denny Marino, and still is the chief catalyst for the club's success in recruiting in recent seasons, bringing in classes that ranked among the leaders in national listings.

"I like to meet the kids' families and their friends and to talk to them," offers Fazio. "I enjoy selling Pitt. I was fortunate to get two degrees from the University of Pittsburgh. I always tell our players that they are here for an education. Don't leave here without it. I just won't recruit anyone who doesn't want to graduate."

ASSISTANT COACHES

CHUCK STOBART
Offensive Coordinator

Chuck Stobart was the head coach at Utah a season ago (it finished in the top ten in the country in total offense. Pitt is a school known for producing fine offensive teams. We're looking for a coach who can take a whole team and make it into a staff. He has to be a coach who can take a team and make it into a staff. He has to be a coach who can take a team and make it into a staff.

He could. He was the offensive coordinator at Michigan during its powerful years in the early 1970s. He was the head coach at Toledo. He was the head coach at Utah, directing an offense that gained 430 total yards a game in 1983, eighth best in the country.

Schembechler, one of the finest coaches in the country, was at Ohio and Michigan.

He is a tremendous football man. Schembechler said. He knows football and he knows how to coach. He is a coach who can take a team and make it into a staff.

His first year at Pitt should be an interesting one, especially with returning players and a new head coach. He is a coach who can take a team and make it into a staff.

We are looking for a coach who can take a team and make it into a staff. He has to be a coach who can take a team and make it into a staff. He has to be a coach who can take a team and make it into a staff.

Vernon, 1961-64. COLLEGE — 1964-65, Miami, 1965-66, Bowling Green, 1966-67, offensive coordinator, University of Michigan, 1968-75, offensive coordinator, Toledo University, 1976-81, head coach, University of Utah, 1982-84, head coach.

PERSONAL INFORMATION: Date of Birth: 10/27/34. Hometown: Bradbury, Ohio. Alma Mater: Ohio University. 5'6". Married to the former Diana Landsey and father of Janna Kay (27), David Roger (24) and Gregory Vincent (30).

BOB JUNKO
Defensive Coordinator
Linebackers

Bob Junko can coach defense, and he has only one way. Keep it simple.

I try to coach by the book method, Junko said. I don't make anything complicated. I really don't like to lump all the players together. I treat each player as a individual and that seems to work best.

He is a coach who can take a team and make it into a staff. He has to be a coach who can take a team and make it into a staff. He has to be a coach who can take a team and make it into a staff.

Coach Junko is an old-fashioned defender. He is a coach who can take a team and make it into a staff. He has to be a coach who can take a team and make it into a staff. He has to be a coach who can take a team and make it into a staff.

Everything going. It's never going out there and every detail has to be perfect. All the way.

Head Coach Foge Fazio agreed. Bob is an excellent teacher, Fazio said. He's enthusiastic, loyal to the program and a fine recruiter. The players respond to him very well.

This is a guy who loves to recruit and is a coach who can take a team and make it into a staff. He has to be a coach who can take a team and make it into a staff. He has to be a coach who can take a team and make it into a staff.

also has depth at nearly every position. I feel confident, said Junko, a native of nearby Washington, Pa. We don't have the Hugh Green and Ricky Jacksons like we did in the past, but heck, those types of players don't come along very often. We might not have the stats that the clubs of the late 1970s had, but we should be respected. We'll be tough.

COACHING EXPERIENCE: COLLEGE — University of Tulsa, 1968, graduate assistant, 1969, freshman coach, 1970-74, linebacker coach, 1975-76, defensive coordinator, Texas Christian University, 1977-82, defensive coordinator, 1979-82, assistant.

PERSONAL INFORMATION: Date of Birth: 7/14/48. Hometown: Washington, Pa. Alma Mater: University of Tulsa. 6'8". Married to the former Judy Goodell and the father of Jeff (13), Mike (11) and Jay (5).

RUSS JACQUES
Quarterbacks
Wide Receivers

He has coached a couple of his former players who are now in the NFL and Oliver Luck. They both could throw, they both were quick and they both are now in the NFL. They both were quick and they both are now in the NFL.

They were both 4.0 students, Jacques said. But John Congemi is the smartest quarterback I've ever coached. As a head coach, I've never coached a better player.

Congemi is one of the reasons Jacques is excited to be the new quarterback coach at the University of Pittsburgh. Another is Joe.

hope can contribute and bring the program where it belongs, which is one of the goals of the program.

I'm disciplined, dedicated, organized and like to have fun, Jacques said. Those are the qualities you need to be a good coach and to that matter, a good player. expect the players to give me in return as much as I give them. They always know where they stand with me, and they always know their roles.

Jacques is pleased to be coaching at Pitt. He was, after all, one of the final individuals hired by Pitt Head Coach Foge Fazio.

COACHING EXPERIENCE: HIGH SCHOOL — Valley Forge, Pa., 1967-72, assistant coach, Cathedral Latin, Cleveland, Oh., 1973, assistant coach, North Royalton, 1974-75, head coach. COLLEGE — Bowling Green, 1975-76, defensive backs, Ohio University, 1976-79, offensive backs, West Virginia, 1980-84, offensive coordinator.

PERSONAL INFORMATION: Date of Birth: 2/26/45. Hometown: Parma, Oh. Alma Mater: Bowling Green. 6'7". Father: Jeaning (13), Rusty (12), Melanie (11), Nicole (8) and Brett (3).

JOHN MONTGOMERY

Tight Ends

John Montgomery more than anything else, understands football. He has coached line and linebackers. He has coached tight ends. He has coached running backs. He has even coached kickers.

He can coach tight ends, too, although it's doubtful he will use them that often at Pitt.

Coach Fazio asked me when I applied for the job, "Do you think you can do it?" Montgomery said.

"Well, if they put on a helmet, I can coach them."

He is excited about the possibilities. But his first job is to get the team ready for the season.

Montgomery has the coaching philosophy.

"Everyone at Pitt can play," Montgomery said. "Everybody came here with credentials. They are going to be good players. They are going to be good players. They are going to be good players."

He has coached tight ends and high line backs. He has coached tight ends in the country, returning after accepting a redshirt last season. He also has David Shuck, Pat Schipani, and Bob Lewis.

expect them all to play like Pitt players like they're proud of the tradition and like they want to go to a bowl game," said Montgomery, the running back coach at Howard University a year ago. "I want them to truly believe that they are part of a tradition, and when the time comes, to make it as that belief."

Montgomery does, after all, believe that himself.

He came to Pitt for the opportunity. He associated with a terrific program, he said. "I'll have the opportunity to coach in a New Year's Day bowl game. Just couldn't pass up a chance like this."

COACHING EXPERIENCE: COLLEGE — Oklahoma State, 1975 student assistant; Alabama A&M, 1978-80, inside linebacker coach; Wichita State, 1981-83, running back coach; Howard University, 1984, running back coach.

PERSONAL INFORMATION: Date of Birth: 8/4/54. Hometown: Poteau, Okla. Alma Mater: Oklahoma State '75. Father of John III.

JOE MOORE

Offensive Line

Joe Moore is a Pittsburgher all the way. He was born and raised in the city.

He is drill-sergeant tough, a natural to be one of the best offensive line coaches college football has ever seen.

He's sentimental, too. He settles down deep, and he'll hug you when you do well.

Joe Moore may be the best line coach in college football, says a man respected for his football opinions. Gil Brandt of the Dallas Cowboys. "When Joe's guys come back, they are ready to go. They are ready to go. They are ready to go."

GERRY SOLOMON

Defensive Ends

Gerry Solomon is alone in the coaching room. He had just returned from a press conference featuring Chris Doleman, the No. 1 draft choice of the Minnesota Vikings. Solomon smiled.

Pleasant to hear, Solomon said. "I'm really happy. Coaching players like him is easy. All you have to do is give them a point to focus on, and once they're focused, sit back and watch."

Solomon makes it sound so simple, and maybe it is for him. He has coached Alan

GRADUATE ASSISTANTS

John Hendrick

Jay Venuto

Hard working. Dedicated. Knowledgeable. Devoted. It may sound like a description of some type of super man. In a sense it is.

The Pitt graduate assistants are some of the hardest workers on the Panther staff. They are up at the crack of dawn assisting the coaches and they often don't leave until the sun has set.

This year's graduate assistants are Jay Venuto and John Hendrick. Venuto is a former A.C.C. quarterback from Wake Forest. Hendrick is a former Pitt player and three-year letterman.

Not many people would recognize them if they were to walk down the street. They do not get the respect that they deserve. But, still they put the time in and it does pay off.

Three of last year's graduate assistants have gone on to be assistant coaches. Sal Sunseri is now coaching at Pitt. Yogi Jones is at James Madison and Hal Hunter is at Columbia. They put in the long, tedious hours and for them, to put it mildly, it was well worth it.

1985 OUTLOOK

University of Pittsburgh Head Football Coach Foge Fazio has rather simple but important expectations of his 1985 team.

"We want a tough, aggressive attitude," says Fazio, "and we need to have consistent improvement in all areas of our football team."

Although the Panthers had a disappointing 3-7-1 record in 1984, Fazio and his squad are optimistic about their chances in '85.

One might wonder what the reasons are for that optimism. The two most important reasons were the results from the final two games of last season. Pitt defeated Miami, 20-10, before traveling to Miami and defeating the Hurricanes, 34-14, to set back easily the Panthers' most impressive performance.

Fazio is the first to admit that last season was a trying one for all involved. He has responded by getting after the much more than he has in the past. He has put together an outstanding recruiting class, and the momentum of the previous season should carry over into this season.

Fazio's high expectations are essentially the goal he instilled in his young club in '84, and with a healthy squad he expects to put on an impressive show at University Park.

Offensively, we want to be able to move the ball," he says. "We want to eliminate mistakes and get the ball into the endzone."

Defensively, we want to return to the aggressive and rock-solid style of the past. We want to restore the tradition that has made the Pitt defense one of the nation's best.

Our spring drills were highlighted by an improved offense and showed that we will have more depth than in 1984. The attitude and enthusiasm that were evident in the spring will carry over into the 1985 season.

Following is a position by position breakdown of the 1985 Panthers.

OFFENSE

SPLIT END — There will be young but talented people at the spot this year. Sophomore Dwayne Milroy, who was bothered by injuries last season, will be counted on, as will sophomore Mike Stewart. Says Fazio, "Dwayne and Mike can both catch the ball and have excellent speed. It is a matter of them gaining game experience." Also battling for the job will be sophomore Dexter Hairston and sophomore Mark Stanton, both of whom were bothered with injuries last season. Gone is Jeff Casper, who had 11 catches for 37 yards in 1984.

FLANKER — Juniors Chuck Scales and Matt Stennett will be counted on heavily and should be improved over a year ago. Scales was Pitt's second-leading receiver last season with 22 catches for 431 yards and two touchdowns. Stennett had five receptions for 74 yards a year ago.

Chuck Scales returns and he did a good job for us last season after he made the transition from halfback to receiver," says Fazio. "If Matt Stennett reaches his potential, we could have two real good players at this position." Depth at this spot will come from the same players listed above at the split end position. Pitt's record-setting receiver of the past two years, Bill Wallace, is gone and will need to be replaced. Incoming freshmen have talent and speed to add depth to the wideout position.

OFFENSIVE LINE — Under the leadership of offensive line coach Joe Moore, this area of the team has traditionally been a strong point. Six lettermen return along the offensive front, however missing will be two important figures from last year's line. Three-time All-America tackle Bill Fawcett and guard Greg Christy, a starter last season, were both seriously injured. Junior Handy Dixon, a linebacker who was heavily used last season, will hold down the other tackle spot. Senior Barry Pettyjohn, who started at both guard and center in '84, will concentrate on guard, while senior starter Mike Dorundo will be at the other slot. Sophomores Ed Miller and Bob Sign were starters at times last season. Miller will remain at center, while Sign will move to guard. Redshirt freshman Tom Ricketts will battle at tackle, as will former defensive tackle Chuck Yea and a redshirt sophomore, linebacker freshman John Matarazzo. Sophomore Scott Costy, junior Andy Lewis, and redshirt freshman Jim Zdzelar will provide depth at guard.

Miller and Sign both played a lot last season at center and will be good about the position, says Fazio. Dorundo and Pettyjohn are experienced at guard, as are Dixon and Brown at tackle. Fawcett and Christy will be tough to replace, but hopefully these people will be able to pick it up. Fazio also had a good year recruiting linemen and some of those freshmen may provide depth.

TIGHT END — Redshirt senior Clint Wilson would have been counted on heavily, but he broke his foot during fall camp and missed the year. Wilson is back and he is bigger and stronger than in '83 when he had a fine season. Junior Pat Schipani, who caught nine passes for 72 yards and a touchdown, and sophomore Dave Shuck gained valuable experience last season and should be a plus this year. Senior Bob Lawson will also provide depth. "It looks as if Wilson, Schipani and Shuck all have the equipment and experience to make this a better position for us than last year," said Fazio.

FULLBACK — Fazio is confident that senior Darnel Stone and junior Tom Brown have the abilities to replace Marc Bailey and Markon McIntyre, who manned this spot the past two years. Last season, Stone carried the ball 24 times for 118 yards and a touchdown and caught eight passes for 47 yards and a touchdown. Brown's playing time was limited because of injury, but he did gain 48 yards on 12 carries and catch two passes for 18 yards. Says Fazio, "Replacing Marion and Marc will be difficult, however. Stone and Brown have the speed and size and will hopefully gain the experience to help." Redshirt freshman Vernon Kirk has been moved from defensive end to fullback and will hopefully help.

TAILBACK — Sophomore starter Charles Gladman, the team's second-leading rusher with 525 yards on 134 carries, will be back to improve on those totals. Gladman rushed for a touchdown. In addition to catching eight passes for 75 yards. Depth could be a problem here because sophomore Craig Heyward, last year's leading rusher, will miss the season for disciplinary reasons. "Charles Gladman proved he can run last year," says Fazio. "With a year's experience, he should be that much better." The players Fazio will be counting on for depth are sophomore Ezekiel Gadson and redshirt freshman A.B. Brown. Both players are talented but have little experience and their progress has been hindered because of injuries. In addition, highly-recruited Brian Davis from Washington, Pa., joins the team, and there will be high expectations for the Parade Magazine Co-Player of the Year.

QUARTERBACK — Senior John Congemi will be looking to have a great season, staying away from injuries. He was not completely healthy for any game last year, but he turned in an outstanding performance against Penn State when he was as physically fit as he had been all year. The Penn State game brought back memories of the fine 1983 season Congemi had. Congemi finished '84 with 90 completions in 174 attempts for 1,102 yards, seven interceptions and one touchdown. John Cummings played a great job all season, and will provide depth, as will sophomore Gene Felitsky, a transfer from Notre Dame who is healthy after sitting out a year. "John Congemi, when healthy, has demonstrated that he is an excellent quarterback," says Fazio. "We feel John can provide us with the leadership we need to have a successful season. Cummings and Felitsky will be in, and we will take a good look at Gene Felitsky." Felitsky had an outstanding spring.

DEFENSE

END — One-half of an outstanding pair of athletes is back. Chris Coleman is gone, but junior Tony Woods, who had 36 tackles and three sacks in seven games, will be back. Also returning is senior Bill Sapio, who is back for his fourth year of eligibility and played a great deal as a backup and part-time starter. Sapio finished fifth on the team in tackles with 64, including 37 solos. Charley Swink, who transferred to Pitt from Penn State, and Matt Bradley, a transfer from UCLA, will also be in the battle. Redshirt sophomore Kevin Wortham and redshirt freshman Aileen Abu Bakr will provide depth. Like the rest of the squad, this position was hard hit by injuries last season. "Chris Coleman will be a big loss," says Fazio, "however, Tony Woods has the same type of size and skill to make the big play. Bill Sapio is a steady performer and he has seen a lot of action the past two years. The depth will come from unproven players. Sophomore Jon Carter moved from tackle in the spring.

LINE — The same three players who started along the defensive front for the Penn State game are back, and they could provide the foundation on which Fazio would like to build a strong defensive team. Fazio will be looking for big plays from this unit. Senior Dennis Attyeh will man the middle guard spot, while senior Bob Buczkowski and junior Walter Johnson return at the tackles. Attyeh and Johnson played in all 11 games in '84 and recorded 56 and 50 tackles, respectively. Attyeh had eight sacks, tops on the team, and Johnson added five. Buczkowski played in nine games with 37 tackles (three sacks). Senior Bob Schliken has been moved back to middle guard where he will compete with Attyeh and redshirt junior John Rees. Junior Lorenzo Freeman, redshirt freshman John Giesky and senior John Kukalis, who has moved from defensive end, will provide backups at tackle. "We have a solid group along the defensive line," says Fazio. "But we are counting on these players to make the big plays for us. We need more big plays from them in order to be successful."

LINEBACKER — Gone are two-year starters Troy Benson and Albert Aidsert, the number one and two tacklers on the team each of the past two seasons. A group of talented but inexperienced players will have to fill the spots. Junior Steve Apke, who played defensive end most of last season, will move back to Aidsert's position. Apke has started at linebacker during his career. As a freshman, he turned in a sterling performance in the Fiesta Bowl. Sophomore Jerry Wall, junior Lee Helrick, sophomore Matt Lavigna, sophomore Jeff Shockley and sophomore Bill McClean will battle for Benson's old spot and provide depth at both positions. "I've always said that Benson and Aidsert were the finest pair of linebackers we've had here at Pitt," said Fazio. "Replacing them will be a major task."

SECONDARY — Senior Bill Callahan, the most steady defensive back, will quarterback the secondary from his strong safety spot. Sophomore Quintin Jones gained valuable experience during the 1984 season, just behind at the left corner. Melvin Dean, a two-year starter at the right corner, is gone. Junior Reggie Smith and sophomore Nathaniel Heyward will back up Callahan, while junior Keith Tinsley, seniors John Lewis, Chris Merchant and Leland Anderson will provide assistance at the corners. Sophomore Dante Wiley, senior Bill McCormick and redshirt freshman Troy Washington will be at free safety. "The secondary was a problem for us last year," says Fazio. "We need a lot of work there, and we need to find the right four people to play as a unit. We have Quintin Jones and Bill Callahan coming back from the Penn State game. We expect big things from Callahan, Tinsley, Smith, Lewis and Wiley, all started and played last season, and all of them will see action this year."

KICKERS — Sophomore Mark Brasco is back to handle the extra-point and field goal duties, while senior Pat Viancourt will be the kickoff man. Brasco made six of 14 field goal attempts, with a long of 52 yards that tied the school record. He also made all 14 of his extra-point attempts. Viancourt has made a habit of nailing non-returnable kickoffs. "Hopefully with a year's experience and maturity Mark Brasco will become more consistent in his field goal kicking. We are confident that he will improve. Viancourt continues to do the job for us on kickoffs. Dave Cullen will punt for us," said Fazio.

1985 PROSPECTUS RUNDOWN

LETTERMEN

Returning 43 (16 offense, 25 defense, 3 specialists) including 12 starters (5 offense, 7 defense)

PROBABLE STRONG SPOTS: Experience and depth along the offensive and defensive interior lines

AREAS OF CONCERN: Finding replacements at the linebacking, split end and flanker positions

PLAYERS WHO SHOULD RECEIVE ALL STAR CONSIDERATION

Bill Canahan, senior strong safety

Bill is a tough competitor," says Coach Fazio. "He is a three-year starter for us, and he has excellent speed and quickness. He is just a steady, consistent performer.
We expect big things from Bill this season.

John Congemi, senior quarterback

John is a real time excellent football player," says Coach Fazio. "When healthy John Congemi is as good as anybody in the country. We plan on keeping him healthy this year.

Randy Dixon, junior offensive tackle

Randy has been a starter since his freshman year says Coach Fazio. "He has the size, strength and speed to fall in line with the Mark Mays, Russ Grimme, Jimbo Coveria, and Bill Fralics.

Clint Wilson, senior tight end

Clint was on the way to having an excellent season last year when he broke his foot," says Coach Fazio.
"He is bigger and stronger now, and we expect him to pick up where he left off in '83. He has very good hands and he has improved his blocking tremendously.

NEW FACES TO WATCH

Quintin Jones, sophomore cornerback
Steve Apke, junior linebacker
Dwayne Milloy, sophomore split end
Tom Ricketts, freshman offensive tackle
Tony Woods, junior defensive end

McCallum holds a 100-yard advantage in rushing at a regular 212. Navy holds 125 yatters and 3.1 lettermen from last year's 44-team squad. "I'm a 5' 6" 160-pounder," says a letterback, "and this season, I've had a sub-concussion while C.B. Bill Byrnes was out with a leg injury." The letterback was in the Parson's camped with a 21-4 victory the last time they visited Annapolis. "I've averaged 2 yards a game," he says, "and defense this day as a junior. McCallum led the nation in all-purpose running and was third in rushing. But he's 40 yards passing in 931 yards a game set a Navy single game record and a 3,000-yard passing game in Navy history."

14 LANE L. ANDERSON CB SR#10/86 Clanton, Pa.
Anderson is a fifth-year senior has played mostly on special teams the last two years and will be in battle for playing time at both corner positions has played all spots in the secondary "Lane improved in the spring," says Coach Walters, "but he was injured and that slowed his progress expect a lot of improvement from Lane this season." sat out freshman year with a shoulder injury earned three football and four track letters at Clanton High School (Coach Pat Risha) a Business major at Pitt Lane L. Anderson was born 7/10/62 one of three sons of Willie and Emma Anderson of Clanton, Pa.

50 STEVE APKE** LB JR#2/2/85 Cincinnati, Oh.
Apke is expected to take over for the graduated Caesar Aldisert although small for his position, Apke has proven time and again over the past two years that he can play and get the same results as the big guys played behind starter Caesar Aldisert as a freshman and played at a defensive end spot last year was bothered by injuries for much of last season when Aldisert was injured in the Penn State game two years ago, Apke filled in against Ohio State in the Fiesta Bowl in that game he recorded a team-high 14 tackles and recovered a fumble played in eight games in '84 recording 57 tackles (33 solos, 24 assists) and three sacks Steve is an excellent football player says Coach Fazio. "He's not a big kid, but he plays very aggressively like a bull in a china shop." "He has a knack for finding the football, and when he does find it he tackles you," says Coach Junko. "He plays at a higher intensity than most players. At his size he couldn't play if he weren't that way." received the Ed Conway Award as the most improved defensive player on the squad during spring drills two years ago earned four letters in football at Moeller High School (Coach Steve Klonne) also earned four basketball and four baseball letters has three brothers and three sisters Steve J. Apke was born 8/3/65 and is the son of Ronald and Mary Ann Apke of Cincinnati

State Breakdown: Penn: 14, 49; Del: 12; Pa: 6; N.J.: 1; Ill: 1; N.Y.: 2

ROBERT BRADLEY, DBA-10r185, Elizabeth (N.J.) High School. Played cornerback and quarterback. A three-year starter at cornerback in '84 had 42 hits and four interceptions. Had 20 interceptions in three years. School coach Robert Toracci on Bradley: "Robert was the reason why we went 6-3. He's the guy who was throwing running and scoring touchdowns. He's a very intelligent player. He's strong, and he comes up and hits people. Robert returned three interceptions for touchdowns, and it was just a case of him knowing when to break on the ball. He's a star. He is on the field and he knows how to was starting tailback at Purdue. Rodney was a good student and another coach on the field. Robert is the same type of kid.

DEAN CALIGUIRE, Line#3-250, Montour High School
Pittsburgh. Member of The Press Finest 44 ... Post
Gazette Fabulous 22 All-State by both wire services high school coach Bill Kriger on Caliguire: "Dean possesses good strength. He benches over 360 pounds on the ... .. well for his size Dean has excellent character on and off the field. He is one of the best Division I recruits that we have had here since Ted Kwalick, who graduated in '64-'65. He's one of the few players that we could have sent out any film from his

WILLIAM CHERPAK Line#-4/255. Steel Valley High School/Munhall, Pa. Member of The Press Football 44 Coaches All-American 2 made All-State teams of both wire services Coaches All-American 1 high school coach George Novak on Cherpak. Will had a very successful career here at Steel Valley. He has great athletic ability. He could play basketball, baseball, golf, or tennis and be successful. He has very good speed for his size and he is an intelligent player. He's an honor roll student and a three-year starter. He's the best lineman we've ever had here. He lives in the weight room and is a hard worker. He played both ways for us, and he was a star at both positions. He made some great plays during his career. Defensively I can remember one time we moved him down over the center and he totally picked the center up and carried him five yards into the backfield. Then he sacked the quarterback.

BRIAN DAVIS, RB/5-11/95, Washington, Pa.) High School Parade All-American co-captain high school coach Guy Montecalvo on Davis. "Definitely the most outstanding high school player I've ever been associated with Brian combines so many attributes that you look for in a great back. He can run inside, and he is just elusive in the open field. He combines all those things. He can run tough inside because of his tremendous leg strength. And he is excellent in the open field because he has great speed and great vision. I just think he combines all the things you are looking for in a running back. He is also a fine receiver. He could have been a super wideout for us if he was a receiver. Brian was just as effective for us as a junior fullback as he was as a senior all back. Brian had a few great games that stick out in my mind. As a sophomore against Beth Center he was involved in five touchdowns. He ran for three, caught one, and threw for another. As a junior in a game against Riverside he ran for 262 yards on 19 carries in three inches of snow. He rushed for 1,600 yards on 166 carries as a senior. High school career rushing yardage: 4,478, 10th best in Pennsylvania high school football history.

DAVID DiTOMMASO, Line#-4/245, Monsignor Farrell High School/Staten Island, N.Y. First team All State in New York All-City All-League .. high school coach Ben Saville on DiTommasso: "Davis is top-notch. He's the best Division I prospect we've had and we've sent kids all over the country. We have a better weight and strength conditioning program now and he has benefited from this. He's ability will carry him through his four years at the school. Because his personality is a fun-loving one, we

GARRIN GILLASPIE, WRB-3180, Wilmar Hutchins High School/Dallas, Tex. A two-year starter and a unanimous all-district selection as a junior and senior, he is a high jumper in track and a member of sprint relay teams. High school coach Radford Taylor on Gillaspie: "Garrin hasn't been able to play spring ball this year because he was on the track team. He's a three sport letterman, and I think his best football is in front of him. His potential is unlimited. He has great speed, and he's a good blocker on the line of scrimmage and downfield. He has very good work habits. He has great speed and very good moves. He's a tremendous deep threat. Some people have a second gear. Barrin does, and he can put it away. He turned some people inside-out on the bootleg. He's deceptive because he's so tall and lanky, but he chews up a tremendous amount of turf when he strides."

CHRISTOPHER GOETZ, Line# 4/270, St. Francis High School/Jackson Heights, N.Y. Voted outstanding offensive lineman in the Senior Bowl after playing defense most of the year. high school coach Vincent O'Connor on Goetz: "Chris was going to play both ways for us, but he hurt an ankle in an early season scrimmage, and I didn't want him to push off his ankle playing both ways. Chris is one of the few players in the last ten years in this league to be a ' as a sophomore. And he was All-Catholic League as a junior and senior. When Chris was a junior we went undefeated and won the league title and the state championship. A lot of that had to do with Chris' defensive play. We were 6-2 last season, and I think that had to do with not being able to use Chris both ways. Chris overpowered the people he played against. He is a strong player, and he has a great team attitude and a great personal attitude. He's a goal-oriented person, and he was under a lot of pressure to go to other schools. But he was impressed with Pittsburgh. a + e a r - h e a, h e r e a n A i

BRIGHAM YOUNG GAME 1

BRIGHAM YOUNG 20 — PITT 14

PITTSBURGH, PA (September 1) — The Panthers were ranked third in the Associated Press preseason football poll going into the contest with Brigham Young. But the Pitt offense, what appeared to be the Panther strong point in the summer drills, never mounted a serious drive against the Cougars. The defense was responsible for both Pitt scores. Free safety Bill Calahan intercepted a BYU pass and paced 78 yards for the Panthers' first touchdown of the '84 season. Then in the third quarter Pitt took a 14-3 lead when fullback Marc Bailey went charging through the hole created by Bill Fralic in the endzone. The Panthers held a 14-2 lead with just 1:37 left in the game when BYU quarterback Robbie Bosco hit Adam Haysbert with a 50-yard scoring strike.

OKLAHOMA 42 — PITT 10

PITTSBURGH, PA (September 15) — OU downed the Panthers 42-10 on the strength of Sooners running back Clyde Carr's 137 yards on the ground and quarterback Danny Bradley's 145 yards through the air.

The Panthers scored first on Mark Brasco's 37 yard field goal, but the Sooners came back to grab a 21-3 lead at the half. John Congemi then hit Bill Wallace with a 25 yard touchdown pass in the third quarter to draw the Panthers close. The fourth quarter belonged to Oklahoma as the Sooners racked up 21 points and forced the Panthers out of their game plan and into catch up football. Congemi finished the day 1 of 27 for 149 yards and had to leave the contest in the fourth quarter with a severely sprained ankle.

TEMPLE GAME 3

TEMPLE 13 — PITT 12

PHILADELPHIA, PA (September 22) — A brilliant day by Pitt freshman tailback Charles Gladman was erased by a last second field goal as the Temple Owls gave the Panthers the third straight loss, 13-12. Gladman rushed for 118 yards on 30 carries, but Temple's Jim Cooper was the story of the game. Cooper hit his second field goal of the second half with just 26 seconds left in the game for the victory. Cooper's first field goal was a boot of 51 yards. The Panthers led behind in the first quarter 7-0 but drew closer on Mark Brasco's field goals of 43 and 32 yards. At the half, Pitt led 12-7 after quarterback John Cummings, starting in the place of injured John Congemi, hit Bill Wallace with a 14-yard scoring strike. When Pitt missed the two-point conversion, the stage was set for Cooper's second-half heroics.

GAME 4

WEST VIRGINIA 28 — PITT 10

PITTSBURGH, PA (September 29) — Lack of offense and injuries continued to plague the Panthers against rival West Virginia. Freshman Charles Gladman raced around right end for 35 yards to set up his two-yard touchdown plunge on Pitt's opening drive. Gladman's first touchdown of his career capped a nine-play, 78-yard drive. The Panthers' only other score came in the third period when freshman kicker Mark Brasco tied a Pitt record for the longest field goal converted. Brasco's 52 yard field goal tied a Pitt record held by Fred Cox (1961) and Carson Long (1974). West Virginia held a 14-7 lead at the half, but the game was broken open in the third period when WVU's Willie Drewrey returned a punt for 74 yards and six points.

Pirates

PITTSBURGH, PA (October 6) — The Panthers won their first game of the season against East Carolina 17-10 when quarterback John Congem threw to two touchdowns and Craig Heyward rushed for 110 yards. The contest marked the first time in the season that Congem remained injury free the entire game. The junior quarterback responded with 177 yards through the air on 13 completions. Before the ECU game, Heyward had only carried the ball 11 times for 39 yards. However, the freshman tailback emerged as an important part of the Pitt offense when he racked up 110 yards on 17 carries against the Pirates. East Carolina added for 10 second-half points, but the Pitt defense hung on to give the Panthers their first mark in the win column.

"Gamecocks"

COLUMBIA, SC (October 7) — The South Carolina Gamecocks brought out the offense with a drive in front of 73,100 fans and put together a 45-21 victory over Pitt. The Panthers' defense allowed the hosts to run up 443 first yards and six touchdowns. But Pitt stayed close most of the game. On the strength of a 60-yard touchdown pass from Chris Jelco to Chuck Spradles and a Craig Heyward touchdown plunge, the Panthers trailed just 21-14 at the half. Heyward's 56-yard run early in the fourth quarter closed the USC lead to 28-21. But the Gamecocks got a 43-yard TD from Thomas Dendy, a 43-yard field goal from Scott Hagler, and a 23-yard touchdown pass from Allen Mitchell to Danny Smith to put the game away.

MIAMI GAME *

MIAMI 27 — PITT 7

MIAMI, FL (October 20) — Led by All-American sophomore quarterback Bernie Kosar, Miami scored in each of the four quarters and flashed a 27-7 victory. The Pitt offense, meanwhile, had problems. The Panther rushing attack was limited to just 65 yards. Only 11 Pitt first downs were recorded. In fact, the Hurricanes more than doubled the Panther offensive output, 454-223. Kosar got off to a fast start. He nailed wide receiver Stanley Shakespeare with a first quarter 16-yard TD. The Canes added a field goal in the second period, two TDs in the third quarter and another three-pointer in the final stanza. Pitt's only score came at the 2:45 mark in the fourth period on a Chris Weid 13-yard strike to Darrell Stone. Kosar finished the day, completing 29 of 42 passes for 351 yards, including 17 of 34 for 170 yards.

NAVY GAME B

PITT 28 — NAVY 28

PITTSBURGH, PA (October 27) — In a season full of disappointments for the Panthers, the Navy game was probably the biggest setback. Pitt was leading by 14 points with 90 seconds remaining in the contest when the Middies struck back for two scores. Navy missed the extra point on a fourth down scored with 26 left on the clock. Then, after a successful onside kick, Navy marched 46 yards in just 35 seconds for a score and the two point conversion that kept the Panthers out of the win column once again. Craig Hayward had his biggest day of the year with 140 yards on 30 carries. The last 90 seconds of the game were full of excitement with a fumble, two interceptions, two onside kicks and 19 passes attempted. And, in the end, the score was even.

SYRACUSE

GAME 9

SYRACUSE, NY (November 3) — In front of 46,489 fans at the Carrier Dome, the Panther offense again stalled and gave way to a 13-7 defeat. It was the Orange's first victory over Pitt since 1972. The frustrating aspect for the visitors was that they outgained Syracuse in total yards by a 307-267 margin. The Panthers rolled up more first downs. They got off more offensive plays. They more than tied the Syracuse passing numbers. But still they lost. Don McAulay put the hosts ahead in the first quarter with a 45-yard field goal. Orangeman QB Todd Norley hit tight end Marty Chalk in the second quarter to stretch the lead to 10-0. Another McAulay boot this time from 41 yards put Syracuse up 13-0 in the third period. Pitt made a surge in the last quarter but fell short. The Panthers went 92 yards in seven plays and scored on a John Congemi keeper. In the waning moments, Pitt reached the Syracuse 20-yard line. But time ran out.

PITTSBURGH, PA. (November 10) — Pitt played its best football of the season to that point in the first half of the Tulane game. Quarterback John Congemi ran for one touchdown and then connected with Bill Wallace for two more scores to defeat the Green Wave 21-10. The Panthers jumped out to a 21-3 halftime lead, then he dominated the win in his last appearance at Pitt Stadium. All-America Bill Wallace was honored at halftime by having his jersey retired. All of the Panthers scoring in the contest came in the last six minutes of the half. Congemi capped off a 4-play, 80-yard drive by diving into the endzone from one yard out for the Panthers' first score. Then the junior quarterback hooked up with Wallace twice in two minutes for touchdowns.

GAME 11

STATE COLLEGE PA (November 24)

Both offenses very and defenses very finally came together for the Pitt Panthers. In the battle of Pennsylvania football, Pitt downed Penn State 31-11. Craig Heyward lumbled the opening kickoff on the ten-yard line, but the Panther defense held the Lions to just a field goal. The only other Lion score was a 37-yard touchdown pass on a broken play. For the offense, the Br. Wallace and John Congemi combination hooked up for the final time with Wallace grabbing touchdown passes of 29 and 30 yards. Congemi also hit Chuck Scales with a 23-yard touchdown pass and the Lion quarterback finished the contest with 16 completions on 22 attempts for 204 yards.

THE UNIVERSITY OF PITTSBURGH

University of Pittsburgh President Wesley W. Posvar

The University of Pittsburgh in Oakland

Bordering the community of Oakland in the eastern section of the city, the University of Pittsburgh has grown to new heights both in the academic world and on the athletic field as it approaches its bicentennial in 1987.

Under the leadership of Wesley Wentz Posvar, who became the university's 16th chancellor in 1967, Pitt has experienced a period of extraordinary growth. Through teaching and research, the University meets a local, national and international public service mission. Several units of the University provide expertise to government agencies, citizens groups, and others concerned with solving societal problems.

While enrollment increased during the 1970s, University facilities expanded. The Pittsburgh campus consists of 54 buildings on 126 acres of land, at the center of which is the Cathedral of Learning, a historic landmark and, at 42 stories, the tallest educational building in the country. Other structural highlights on the campus include the award-winning Chemistry Building and Hillman Library, the latter housing more than 3,700,000 volumes.

The University also extends to other sections of Western Pennsylvania with its four regional campuses in Greensburg, Johnstown, Bradford and Titusville. The Pittsburgh campus is a complex of 6 schools, 97 departments and 23 special centers.

The University has continued to increase in national and international stature, annually attracting more than $60 million in sponsored research and programs. In 1974 Pitt was elected to membership in the Association of American Universities, a select organization of the nation's most respected graduate and research programs.

Pitt has been the site of many scientific achievements. Jonas Salk in 1953 developed and tested the Salk polio vaccine; Klaus Hoffmann synthesized the hormone ACTH in 1961; in 1964

Panayotis Katsouranis developed synthetic insulin. In 1975 Pitt anthropologist James Adovasio began an archaeological dig just south of Pittsburgh, which is the oldest verified site of continuous human occupation in the Western Hemisphere. William Cassidy, who in 1977 discovered the largest meteorite ever found in Antarctica, was the first scientist to predict the location of meteors. Charles Brinton's research team in 1977 developed vaccines against three major bacterial diseases: gonorrhea, diarrhea, and Pseudomonas aeruginosa infection.

The University of Pittsburgh's six Schools of the Health Sciences have affiliations with the corporate members of the University Health Center of Pittsburgh, which was formed in 1985. The members include five major hospitals adjacent to the University. The University's Schools of the Health Sciences and the University Health Center of Pittsburgh form one of the outstanding centers in the country for high quality patient care through health education, research, and services.

At the University of Pittsburgh, there is an education to be had outside as well as inside the classroom. A New York sports writer once said there are more fascinating characters per square inch in Oakland than any other community he had ever visited in his work. He is among those who fondly recall the games at Forbes Field and those who have grown up with football games at Pitt Stadium.

Sports heroes have always enjoyed a special prominence in Oakland. Pitt, the Pirates, and the Steelers are just some of the teams that have turned Oakland upside down on so many occasions.

There is a special pride in Pittsburgh these days, and the University of Pittsburgh and Oakland have contributed to that feeling.

We're No.1

I was a not on that many native and "adopted" Pittsburghers know in the hearts was true but rarely mentioned to friends living outside the area to avoid the joys or burdens of living in a city.

We're talking about pride in the Pittsburgh area. A place that can claim first rate educational facilities and medical care - or taking the scenic view of a fading glory when walking down town streets at or dark - reasonable housing costs - and a commanding presence - competitive and of championship sports teams. Add it all up and Pittsburgh makes out as a pretty nice place to live - or to go to college.

Well, the days of holding back are over. We're showing praises from the Pittsburghers. Or from the top of the Carnegie of Learning. Rank Magazine's Places Rated Almanac recently named Pittsburgh as the best place to live in the United States. A total of 328 metropolitan areas were evaluated in the four-year study. And we came out No. 1. Now if we can reach our 110th birthday City of Champions.

DR. WESLEY W.
POSVAR,
PRESIDENT

"We continue to want championship teams and we are going to have them. University of Pittsburgh President Wesley Posvar remarked to the Board of Trustees this year. The message was elaborated in the milestone University Plan recently developed to guide the institution into the next century. "Intercollegiate Athletics," Dr. Posvar wrote, "comprises an element that is key to development of the wider athletic dimension. Our Department of Athletics is achieving a sound combination of commitment to academic success by the student-athlete measured by grades and graduation, and successful performance in competition."

Dr. Posvar became Chancellor in 1967 and his title was changed to President in 1984.

Dr. Posvar demonstrated in his own college career that success in athletics can complement high academic attainment. He was a college athlete at the United States Military Academy at West Point (Class of '46), where he also graduated first in his class, achieving one of the Academy's all-time highest academic records. Winning a Rhodes Scholarship to Oxford, he earned master's degrees there in philosophy, politics and economics. At Harvard he earned an M.S. in public administration and a Ph.D. in political science.

As an Air Force pilot Dr. Posvar conducted test flights on some of the earliest jets, and later flew in the Berlin airlift. He served on the strategic planning staff at the Pentagon and later headed the Political Science Department and the Social Sciences Division at the Air Force Academy. Dr. Posvar was named one of the Ten Outstanding Young Men in the United States by the U.S. Junior Chamber of Commerce in 1959.

"A great University," President Posvar has emphasized, "doesn't just contribute to the cultural life of athletic scene of a city. It is also a major force in the economic vitality of its regions. Posvar was instrumental in negotiating the $100 million Gulf/Chesson gift to Pitt through which the $4-building Gulf research facility will become a center of research, development and high tech production."

Mrs. Posvar, sings professionally as Mildred Miller, a mezzo-soprano who is internationally acclaimed as a recording artist and lieder singer and who was a principal artist for twenty-three years at the Metropolitan Opera. An active civic leader, she is founder and Artistic Director of the Pittsburgh Opera Theater.

The Posvars have three children: Wesley, Manna, and Lisa.

DIRECTOR OF ATHLETICS

Dr. Edward E. Bozik, a man with broad management and administrative experience in both athletics and academics, became the Director of Athletics at the University of Pittsburgh on September 1, 1982.

In his past three years as athletics director, Dr. Bozik has responded to the initial guidance provided by President Wesley Posvar. Improved academic performances of all student athletes was the first priority, and the resources and effort dedicated to that area have paid substantial dividends. The football and men's basketball teams continued to build upon past successes, and other varsity sports for men and women began the advance to championship calibre with Big East Championships in women's volleyball in 1982 and 1984 and in men's and women's swimming in 1983, 1984 and 1985. Pitt's track and field team gained new respect when NCAA champion Roger Kingdom won the 110-meter high hurdles gold medal at the 1984 Olympics.

Fundraising has continued to grow during Dr. Bozik's tenure and substantial improvements in the athletics facilities have been completed, including construction of a new athletics administration building in Pitt Stadium; restoration and resurfacing of the Stadium; continued improvements in Fitzgerald Field House, including new offices and a players lounge, and a new grass practice field for football and soccer.

On the national scene, Dr. Bozik has been active as a member of the NCAA Executive Committee, NCAA Television Committee, and as a member of the Board of Directors of the College Football Association.

Dr. Bozik is a native of Donora, Pa., a town well-known for the many great athletes and high school teams it has produced. A 1946 graduate of Donora High School, he received his B.S. from California University of Pennsylvania in 1953 and later earned his Ph.D. in Political Science from Georgetown University.

The strong commitment to education runs throughout the Bozik family. Dr. Bozik's wife, JoAnn, a native of California, Pa., holds a Master's Degree in speech pathology and deaf education and was awarded a Ph.D. in education and developmental psychology from Pitt this year.

The Bozik children are also continuing the educational commitment. Daughter Peggy Jo holds undergraduate music and psychology degrees from Pitt and also is a graduate of the Pitt Law School. Son Michael, a Notre Dame graduate, is a third year student at the University of Pittsburgh School of Medicine. Son Tim, another Notre Dame graduate, is employed by Prentice-Hall.

Heavy demands, both on and off the field, are placed upon all the student-athletes at the University of Pittsburgh. As a student, each member of the football team must take a full schedule of classes, while at the same time practicing, traveling, and competing in the sport.

Because of the University's commitment to both athletic and academic excellence, the Office of Support Services for Student Athletes was established in 1976 to assist Pitt athletes in making progress toward their degree and achieving academic and personal goals. Today, this service is considered a model of its kind with a wide range of support, which begins with an orientation to the University, its rules and regulations, campus life and support services. The Office of Support Services offers academic advising, tutoring, the strengthening of learning skills and study habits, and personal and career counseling. Not only is the progress of each athlete monitored, but classroom performance is also monitored, allowing the instructors the opportunity to express the student-athlete's needs in higher class.

The Support Service staff includes two former Pitt football players, Paul Yuna, the Director who is currently pursuing a Ph.D., and Dr. Lloyd Weston, a former football All-America who is responsible for academic and personal counseling. Assisting them in supporting the student athletes are Dave Pistolesi, the tutorial coordinator, Ruth Davis, the learning skills specialist, two part-time academic advisors, Darlene Gridlin and Dave Hockabout, and Marielle Simpson, the coordinator of the daily office functions. All are committed to assisting Pitt's student athletes in achieving their goals.

Dr. O'Neill Sanford begins his first year as the Director of Bands for the University of Pittsburgh.

We are extremely pleased to have hired O'Neill to be our new Director of Bands, said Pitt Director of Athletics Dr. Edward E. Bozik. "He comes to us highly recommended by music people from across the country. I am confident he will bring a high degree of excitement and professionalism to our various band programs and revitalize and energize our musical organization."

In addition to being Director of the Marching and Pep Bands since 1975, Mr. Sanford has served as Symphonic and Jazz Ensemble Director and Associate Director of Bands at Minnesota. ## THE PANTHER MASCOT

The Panther, in its concolor, was adopted as the University of Pittsburgh's mascot at a meeting of student and alumni leaders in the early autumn of 1909. According to George M. P. Barr, '09, who made the suggestion, it was chosen for the following reasons: (1) the Panther was the most formidable creature on the native fies to the Pittsburgh region; (2) it had an upright heroic standing as a noble animal; (3) the happy accident of a generation; (4) the close approximation of its hue to the old gold of the University's colors; and (5) the fact that no other college or university then employed it as a symbol.

PITT RANKS 6th IN NATIONAL CHAMPIONSHIPS

Elusive. Cantankerous. Agonizing. Dreadful. Wonderful. These are all adjectives used to describe the honest of greatness in college football—the search for No. 1.

To settle countless arguments, Sports Illustrated in 1970 researched the first and only complete and wholly accurate list ever compiled of college football's mythical national champions. Every recognized authority that ever presumed to name a No. 1 is included. They include Parke H. Davis Ratings (1889-1935), the Helms Athletic Foundation (1889-1970), the Dickinson System (1924-1940), the Illustrated Football Annual (1924-1941), the Football Thesaurus (1927-1958), the Dunkel System (1929-1970), the Litkenhous System (1934-1970), the Williamson System (1932-1963), the Associated Press (1936-1970), the United Press International (1950-1970), the Football Writers Association of America (1954-1970), and the National Football Hall of Fame (1959-1970).

TRIBUTE TO JOCK SUTHERLAND

JOCK SUTHERLAND

OLD FRIENDS — Dr. Sutherland's refurbished portrait, which now graces the wall of the conference room in the department of athletics, is admired by left to right: vice president of Pitt's Pioneer women athletes, head football coach Foge Fazio, the one All-American, 9361 and long-time Golden Panther, Ave. Daniel, and Eddie Brachler, a former newspaper reporter who was an admirer of Dr. Sutherland.

"I have a deep affection for the University of Pittsburgh. It is my university. I am proud to be a Pitt man."
—Jock Sutherland

During the 1984 football season, the University of Pittsburgh paid tribute to one of its all-time distinguished athletes and coaches when it honored Dr. John Bain Jock Sutherland.

Jock Sutherland is a legendary figure in Pitt's football history. He was a guard on the great Pitt teams of 914-1917 — teams that lost but one game during that span — and he gained All-America honors, and a degree in dentistry.

He replaced Pop Warner as coach in 1924 and directed Pitt to many national and eastern titles. He turned out 21 All-Americans. In 1953, he was in the first class inducted into the National Football Foundation and Hall of Fame.

With that in mind, University officials found it appropriate to rename Stadium Road adjacent to Pitt Stadium in his honor. Now it is Sutherland Drive.

NEW HOME — Pittsburgh Mayor and University Trustee Ronald S. Caughran and University President Wesley W. Posvar presided at Sutherland Dedication Ceremonies.

CLASS OF 1920 — Herb McCracken, center, who played quarterback at Pitt 1919-201 and was a contemporary coach of Sutherland and competed against him, is flanked by Mayor Caughran and Pitt's Director of Athletics Dr. Edward E. Boock. McCracken chairs the University Athletic Committee, and remains an ardent Panther booster.

PITT HALL OF FAME AWARDEES

Thus far the University of Pittsburgh has had nine players, one coach and one player-coach elected to the National Hall of Fame. Jock Sutherland, a great guard from 1914 through 1917 and Pitt's brilliantly successful coach from 1924 through 1938, was elected in 1953, being among the first coaches named.

- In 1954, Bob Peck, Pitt's first All-America (center in 1914, 1915, and 1916), was elected as the first Pitt player to be placed on the honor roll.
- In 1958, Marshall Goldberg, an All-America Halfback in 1937 and All-America fullback in 1938.

- In 1965, George McLaren, an All-America fullback in 1917 and 1918.
- In 1967, Herb Steen, an All-America center in 1921.
- In 1970, Tom Davies, an All-America halfback in 1918 and 1920.
- In 1971, Joe Thompson, outstanding player-coach from 1904-1912.
- In 1973, Hube Wagner, brilliant end and running back from 1910-1913, and Herb McCracken, back and lineman from 1918-20.
- In 1975, Avery Daniel, All-America tackle in 1936 and Joe Skladany, All-America end in 1932 and 1933.
- In 1979, Joe Donchess, All-America end in 1929.

THE FINEST — Joe Schmidt, an All-American in 1952 and Conky Cost a standout back in 1958, get together at a University of Pittsburgh fund-raising golf outing. Schmidt went on to All-Pro greatness and a Pro Football Hall of Fame career with the Detroit Lions. Cost, the last Pitt athlete to win ring letters (three each in football, basketball and baseball) has his own construction business and is active in alumni fund-raising efforts.

1985 BLUE GOLD SPRING GAME

Flutie led the Blue squad with a smile on Saturday, April 27, when the Blue squad saw its first game played to a 24-24 standstill in the annual Blue-Gold Spring Game.

Flutie, as a sophomore, had a tough game, but he looked on as his team fought the uphill battle and won the game in an extra point game, 24-24, in an estimated crowd of 5,000.

During the 24-18, the White squad moved into a position to even the score when halfback Charles Bradman rushed for a one-yard touchdown. On the two-point conversion play, Bradman took a pass from quarterback Mike Stewart and completed a pass to Dave Logan on the end zone.

The Blue squad had a lead of 10-0 in the first half as Bradman, a sophomore, and Bradman, a sophomore, halfback A.D. Bradman, a sophomore, and Mike Stewart combined to lead the Blue squad to a 10-0 lead in the first half.

PITT SPORTS SCENE

Whereas the University of Pittsburgh competes on an independent basis in football, it is a member of the prestigious Big East Conference for most of its varsity sports.

That conference, of course, is recognized as the No. 1 basketball conference in the country. One of its members, Villanova, won the national championship last season, and two others, Georgetown and St. John's, were in the Final Four. It was the first time in history that one conference had three representatives in the championship round.

The Panthers have improved their status in the standings, moving up to fifth place last winter, and will be looked upon to do even better this time around. Pitt plays regularly to sell-out crowds, 16,610, at Fitzgerald Field House, and had a city record 16,523 for its game with Georgetown at the Civic Arena in Pittsburgh.

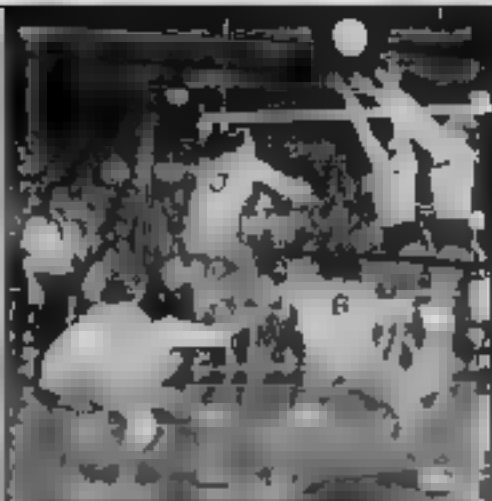

Pitt has won the men's and women's swimming and diving championships the past three years and has hosted the championship event during the same period at Trees Pool, one of the best facilities of its kind in the country.

The Panthers also won the women's volleyball title in the Big East last fall and are hopeful of repeating.

The school also competes in the Big East in baseball, and soccer, men's and women's track and field, and cross country, women's basketball, and men's and women's tennis.

Pitt is a member of the Eastern Wrestling League. Its men's and women's wrestling teams are points of pride, and Pitt hosted the NCAA Northeast Regional Women's Gymnastics championships last season along with an international competition featuring Japanese men's and women's all-star team.

So there's something for everybody in sports at Pitt.

"PITT IRON WORKS"

Some doomdayers say the iron and steel business in Pittsburgh is dead, but they haven't been to Buddy Morris' modern plant at Pitt Stadium.

There, just off the football team's spacious locker room, business is booming. Everybody seems to be working over time, and there isn't any time of day when somebody isn't pumping iron, or adding muscle to the Pitt football machine.

Morris is weight training coordinator for Foge Fazio's football squad. He is a well-muscled, demanding and meticulous young man who gets the most out of his troops. He provides testimony to his own preaching, and insists that the room and every machine be as clean as possible.

Dedication and discipline are words and principles Morris espouses, and he points proudly to the likes of Jim Sweeney, Marion Montgomery and Bill Fralic for proof that his methods work. If that is, the individuals are willing to work.

The room, outfitted with the latest in Nautilus and free weight equipment, has a sign labeling it "PITT IRON WORKS." It's a sign that has appeared in Sports Illustrated because the room has helped produce a string of pro performers and outstanding collegiate athletes that have put Pitt among the most prominent football programs in the country.

Morris is clear on his objectives. This is not a cosmetic shop for future Arnold Schwarzeneggers. "If you want to look good, that's fine, but it's most important to improve on the field," says Morris. "Beauty never won a football game."

Former Pitt All-America offensive tackle Bill Fralic spent an awful lot of time in the Pitt weight room and it paid off on the field.

SPORTS INFORMATION

JIM O'BRIEN

Assistant Athletic Director for Public Relations/Sports Information Director

Jim O'Brien is in his third year of promoting the athletic program at his alma mater. He is a 1964 graduate with a B.A. degree in English.

Anybody who has seen Jim leading a pack of grade school youngsters through the Field House or Pitt Stadium can appreciate how much he enjoys introducing young people to Pitt, its athletic facilities, coaches, administrators and athletes.

He took over a thousand youngsters on such field trips last spring, and sent them home vowing to follow Pitt's sports teams for the rest of their lives.

Those field trips, the football highlight film, an internship program and community service and outreach programs by Pitt representatives are some of the programs he is proudest of establishing.

He serves on the board of directors for the Oakland Business and Civic Association, the Ozanam Cultural Center, the National Football Foundation, Dapper Den Club and Pennsylvania Sports Hall of Fame, Western Chapter.

He previously worked at The Pittsburgh Press, New York Post and The Miami News. He has been editor of Street & Smith's Basketball Yearbook for 16 years, and continues to contribute to many local and national publications. He has edited two books, "Pittsburgh: The Story of the City of Champions," and "Hall to Pitt: A Sports History of the University of Pittsburgh."

O'Brien and his wife, Kathleen, who has her master's degree in social work from Pitt, are active in many community programs, including PTA, and are enthusiastic tennis and bridge players. They have two daughters, Sarah, 12, and Rebecca, 8.

BEATRICE SCHWARTZ

Secretary/Editorial Assistant

Bea Schwartz is the heart and soul of the sports information office and its poet laureate. She has been with the department for the past seven seasons, and at the University for 15 years. She previously worked as a secretary in the philosophy department, which figures.

Anybody who has ever dealt with the sports information department has a Bea Schwartz story. She's a "people person," and has a smile for everyone even when everybody else might look as if the sky has fallen on them that particular day.

She has quite the vocabulary, is an astute speller, and a dedicated worker who keeps things moving smoothly.

A native of Uniontown, Bea has a theatrical and radio background, and calls on it to entertain everyone who visits the Pitt department of athletics.

Bea has two sons — Dr. Alan Schwartz, of Phoenix, Ariz., who is the medical director of the emergency center of Phoenix Baptist Hospital, and Marchie, who is in the automobile business in Phoenix. Bea has four grandchildren, Danny, Britton, Melissa and Jeffrey.

Pat Hanlon, who served as editor of this yearbook, left Pitt in late July to become assistant sports information director in the athletic department of The University of Oklahoma. Hanlon had a three-year tour at Pitt, the last two as assistant sports information director. He and Jim O'Brien combined to win "best in the district" honors from CoSIDA for their 1984 football yearbook and 1984 football game programs.

Prints of the Pitt Panthers Hall of Fame portrait on the cover of Pitt Football 1985 can be purchased at Maser Galleries, 5427 Walnut Street, Pittsburgh, PA 15232, or phone (412) 687-0885. Twenty percent of sales will be donated to the Pitt Golden Panthers.

LINDA VENZON

Assistant Sports Information Director

Linda Venzon begins her sixth season on the sports information staff.

A 1980 Pitt graduate, Venzon worked one full year as a student intern in the sports information office while attending Pitt, before gaining public relations experience on the professional level with the Pittsburgh Pirates.

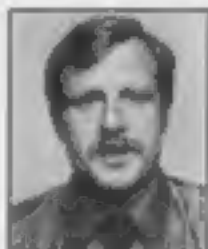

In five years, Venzon has been media liaison for 15 regional, conference and international varsity events. During that time, her duties were expanded to cover Pitt's 17 varsity sports while assisting in men's basketball and football.

This season, Venzon will assist Jim O'Brien with the Pitt football program.

She was selected to assist the NCAA in its initial women's basketball championship in Norfolk, Virginia. She is a member of the College Sports Information Directors of America and won her first CoSIDA award for the 1981 women's basketball brochure. The 1984-85 varsity sports media guide edited by O'Brien and Venzon was recognized as "Best in the Nation" in the multi-sports publications.

Venzon begins her fourth season as the District II CoSIDA Academic All-America coordinator for men's sports. She is a member of the Foge Fazio Leukemia Golf Committee and has worked on special publications for the Eastern Wrestling League. She also served as media liaison for the Team Xerox Marathon, held in Pittsburgh for the first time last year.

Venzon is originally from Harrison Park.

KIMBALL SMITH

Ticket Sales Director/
Promotions and
Men's Basketball Publicist

Kimball Smith begins his ninth season as a member of the sports information staff.

A 1975 graduate of Cornell University, Smith continued his education at the University of Massachusetts where he earned his Master's Degree in Athletic Administration in 1978. He worked in the sports information offices at both Cornell and UMass before coming to Pitt as a graduate intern in the fall of 1976. He was hired in his present capacity in the spring of 1977.

Smith's duties include the coordination of promotions and ticket sales for both football and basketball. Three years ago he won a CoSIDA award for the 1982-83 men's basketball brochure.

He is married to the former Nancy Rees; they have a daughter, Kelly Jean, age 7.
